

ANTONY ANTONIOU

Managing Director, Robert Irving Burns & Aspida Capital

Antony is a Real Estate investment professional with over 25 years' experience in the sector. A specialist investment manager, his expertise spans deal origination, acquisitions, financial structuring, value enhancement, and the ongoing asset management of prime commercial property, as well as development projects. In addition to direct property investment, Antony is actively involved in structured investments, funds, syndicated ventures, and co-investment products.

He is the Managing Director of Robert Irving Burns, a firm of property consultants established in 1962, with offices in London's West End.

Robert Irving Burns is one of the largest independent multi-disciplinary property firms in Central London, acting for High and Ultra-High Net Worth Individuals (HNWI/UHNWI), private property companies, and investment funds. The firm provides a full range of services across commercial and residential estate agency, property management, and professional advisory work, including rent reviews, lease renewals, and valuations.

Antony also serves as a member of the Investment Committee at Aspida Capital, a leading property investment company focused on the UK market. Aspida Capital operates primarily as a single-family office, while also working closely with other family offices and fund managers seeking exposure to real estate.
