about cyprus paradise between three continents

: why cyprus?

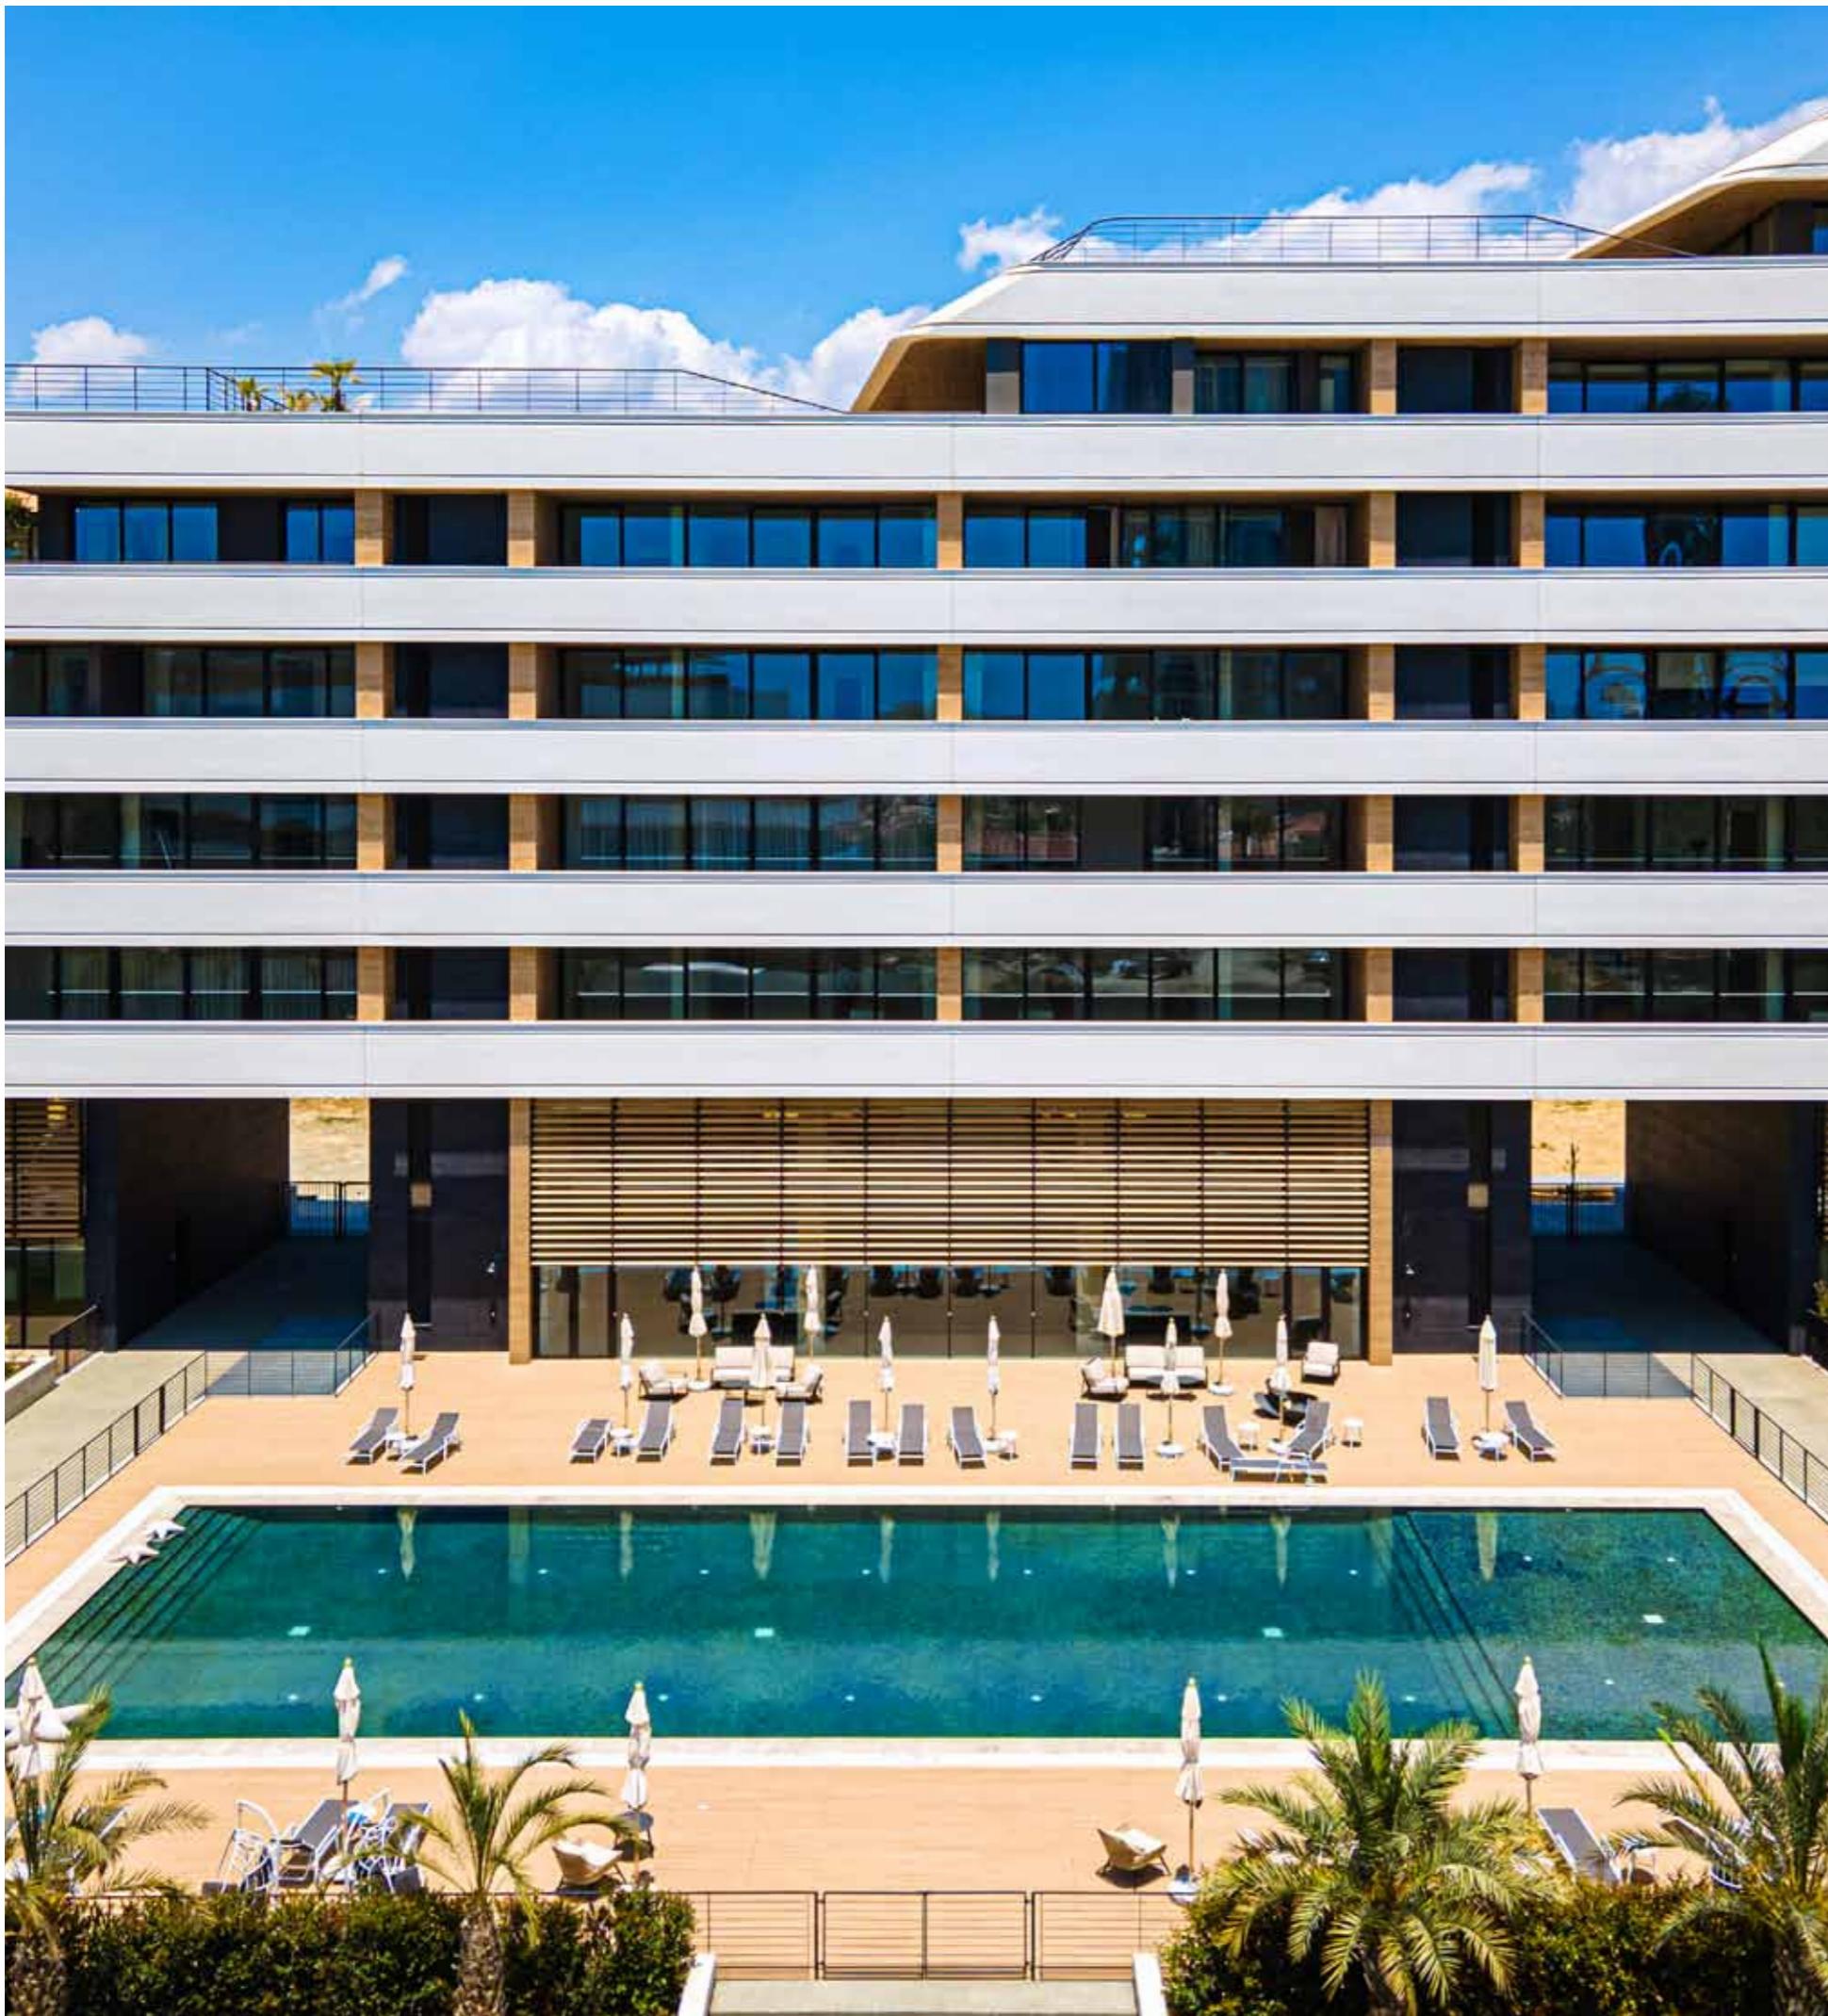

Cyprus is the third largest island in the Mediterranean Sea. It is deservedly considered to be one of the most attractive places for living, leisure and business. Annually hundreds of thousands of tourists from all around the world come here to enjoy the magnificent climate, relax on one of the comfortable fully-equipped beaches and to immerse into the luxurious atmosphere and comfort of 5-star hotels.

The climate of Cyprus is considered to be one of the healthiest and mildest in the world. The sea air rich in iodine and the pure mountain air is the key to good health and wellness. This is exactly why the life expectancy of the population of Cyprus is higher than in many other countries.

Cyprus offers excellent opportunities for acquiring high quality standard education according to the UK national school curriculum. Along with the comfortable lifestyle, Cyprus offers the lowest taxes in Europe, and the foreign buyers of property on the island can receive residence permits and European citizenship.

Hundreds of hotels and apartments, night clubs and shops make this city attractive for holidays, shopping, as well as permanent stay. Limassol is considered to be the city that has it all, from a thriving business hub to a marvellous Mediterranean resort.

Limassol offers a professional business environment with modern leisure facilities, excellent travel and telecommunications infrastructure coupled with a multicultural mindset, that has seen the city attract the lion's share of inward investment in Cyprus. The rise of Limassol as Cyprus's leading tourist destination has led to significant international investment including the restoration of the old port and the historic city centre, the completion of one of the finest marinas in the Mediterranean, a new casino resort under construction, as well as other substantial business investments in the energy and property sectors that will continue to attract global interest. These compelling new attractions and additions to the community of Limassol will continue to drive demand in this jewel of the Mediterranean.

*The presented information is indicative and must be verified with a professional auditor or a relevant specialized service provider. bbf® doesn't hold the qualification of an auditing or immigration firm to deliver a 100% accurate tax and immigration related advice.

: main conditions & terms*

- To be granted a life-long permanent residency permit in Cyprus, the applicant needs to purchase a new property or two new properties from the same developer for a total amount of 300,000 euros, excluding the Value Added Tax (V.A.T.). At the time of submission of the application, 200,000 Euros (excluding the V.A.T.) must be transferred in settlement of the property and the contract of sale must be registered at the Land Registry Office.
- The issuance of the Cyprus permanent residency permit takes about 2 months and covers the applicant's dependents who are the spouse and their minor children up to the age of 18 years. Unmarried children between the ages of 18 and 25 can only apply for a separate Immigration Permit with the payment of the corresponding fee when they are proven to be higher education students abroad at the time of application and who are financially dependent on the applicant. If the children are students in Higher Education Institutions of the Republic, they must apply for a temporary residence permit in the Republic as students under the relevant legislation (EU Directive). After completing their studies in Cyprus, they will be able to submit their own application for an Immigration Permit. A Cyprus residency permit allows the holder to stay in Cyprus all year round although one is not obliged to do so.
- The unique advantage of the Cyprus permanent residency programme compared to those of other European countries is that it is life-long, whereas in other European countries residency permits are issued for a limited period of up to 5 years.
- Another considerable advantage of the Cyprus residency programme is that in order to keep your residency you are not obliged to stay in the country for at least 3 months a year, you only need to visit Cyprus once every two years.

Cyprus tax preferences

: non-domicile

With the introduction of "Non-Domicile" or "non-dom" rules, a Cyprus tax resident individual who is not domiciled in Cyprus (individual who has not been a tax resident for at least 17 years out of the last 20 years) will effectively not be subject to individual tax on any interest, rents or dividends (whether actual or deemed) regardless of whether such income is derived from sources within Cyprus and whether such income is remitted to a bank account or economically used in Cyprus.

: tax residency in 60 days

- To become a tax resident in 60 days one must not reside in any other single state for a period exceeding 183 days in aggregate, and not be a tax resident in any other state, and reside in Cyprus for at least 60 days during the tax year (01/01/-31/12), and have other defined Cyprus ties. To satisfy this condition the individual must carry out any business in Cyprus and/or be employed in Cyprus and/or hold an office (director) of a company tax resident in Cyprus at any time in the tax year, provided that such is not terminated during the tax year.
- Further the individual must maintain in the tax year a permanent residential property in Cyprus which is either owned or rented by the individual (the residential property have to be always on his/her disposal).

: other preferences

- Highest number of signed Double Tax Treaties (DTT) in Europe (DTT agreements with countries all around the world including Russia, Romania, UK, India and others)
- No withholding tax on outward payments (Dividends-Interest-Royalties) to non-Cyprus tax residents (companies or individuals)
- No capital gains tax is payable on the sale or transfer of securities and the gains are exempt from Income Tax (except gains from disposal of shares in companies owning Real Estate situated in Cyprus – only to the extent that the gain relates to the particular Cyprus Real Estate)
